Workflow. Reinvented.

New Business and Lateral Hire Intake for Law Firms

Bringing on new business is at the heart of every law firm. It is a mission-critical, intricate process that requires numerous steps, reviews and approvals that span numerous personnel, information repositories, firm systems and applications across multiple office locations.

An inefficient new business intake process can significantly reduce the speed with which a firm can take on new clients and matters, result in incorrect data entry across multiple systems in the firm, and can jeopardize the firm's ability to comply with regulatory compliance requirements such as Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA) Code of Conduct, Know Your Client (KYC) and anti-money laundering (AML).

New business evaluation criteria constantly change, roles and responsibilities shift, and external circumstances continuously factor in. These changes impact information access, analysis, routing, reporting and ultimately, a firm's ability to maintain a competitive edge.

Today's law firms require a redefined approach to new business intake, one that proactively and systematically automates client/matter/lateral intake workflows, while giving the firm the tools and flexibility to immediately address process changes in-house.

compliguard flow2™ is a workflow application designed from the ground up to automate new business and lateral hire intake workflows throughout every stage of the review and approval process.
